TOOK UP RACE CHALLENGE
AND DIED FROM RUNAWAYFred Farmer Received Fatal Injuries at Burlington When Thrown From Wagon Against a Pole.

Burlington, Aug. 26.—Fred Farmer of Porter's point died yesterday afternoon at the Mary Fletcher hospital from injuries received in a runaway, without once regaining consciousness. The direct cause of death was a split skull.

Farmer was driving home Saturday afternoon when he received the fatal injuries. He had reached the stretch of road between the Maxwell farm and Barker's place about 2:30 o'clock, when another team came along, containing a man named Brown, who challenged Farmer to a race. Farmer replied that he had time enough, but at the same moment struck his horse and told him to "move along." These were his last words, for the horse shied violently and threw Farmer with force into the ditch. His head struck a pole, and he lay there unconscious.

The horse went at breakneck speed down the road but was caught after one of the wheels of the carriage had been demolished. Farmer was taken to the Mary Fletcher hospital as soon as possible, but Frank Zeno and Brown were both witnesses of the accident and tendered their aid. Physicians were hurriedly summoned and treated him before his removal, and as it was feared the man would die, Chief of Police Russell was also called.

At the hospital it was thought that the injuries would result fatally, and Farmer gradually sank without once regaining consciousness.

Farmer was 53 years of age and is survived by a wife and two sons. He has operated in recent years a small farm on Porter's point. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the home at Malletts Bay cemetery.

The boat sank, however, and Miss Richter was carried to the bottom with it.

The two men then started to swim ashore with Miss Whitman, but after they had gone some distance they found they were carrying a lifeless burden, the woman having apparently died from exhaustion.

Deacon C. S. Wallace Dead.
Well Known Barre Man Prominent in Various Walks of Life.

The death of Charles Sidney Wallace, for twenty-five years a deacon in the Congregational church, a charter member of the Christian Endeavor society, and a charter member of the Retail Clerks' union, occurred at his home, 14 Terrace avenue, Saturday forenoon at 10:15 o'clock, after a lingering illness of many months. Mr. Wallace leaves his wife, his father, Sidney Wallace, of Waterbury, and three children, Frank Wallace, of South Barre, Miss L. Mae Wallace, who was with her father at the hour of death, and Sidney A. Wallace of Westland Lake, N. Y. A sister, Mrs. John Dodge of Wells River and a brother, James W. Wallace of Waterbury, also survive.

Mr. Wallace was born in Waterbury, November 16, 1851. He went to the common schools of his native town and afterwards completed his education at Montpelier seminary. For a few years thereafter he taught school in Middlebury, returning later to his father's farm in Waterbury, where he remained for a time. Thirty-two years ago he came to Barre and was employed at Israel Wood's creamery in Barre town. His marriage to Miss Isabelle F. Godfrey of Boston, took place in Dedham, Mass., March 9, 1876.

During his early residence in Barre, Mr. Wallace was successfully employed by James Smith at the Smith farm, North Barre, in George Town's grocery store, B. L. Clark's grocery store and W. H. Gale's shoe store. He drove the first milk team for Mr. Smith and was later the first to take orders by team for the Town grocery store. Several years ago he became employed in C. S. Andrews' People's shoe store and it was only when ill health compelled him to sever his connection with the store that he left a year ago.

At an early age, Deacon Wallace united with the Congregational church. Twenty-five years ago he was elevated to a deacon in the Barre church and since that time, as before, he has been one of the foremost figures in its work. As a charter member of the church's Christian Endeavor society, he took an active part of the society's mission up to the time of his last illness. For years he was superintendent of the Sunday school and it was during his term of service that the school grew rapidly in numbers. For fifteen years he was clerk of the church and his resignation last January was accepted only when it became evident that the condition of his health was serious. In recognition of his staunch service in the church and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his election to the deaconate, members of the Congregational church held an observance last winter. But Deacon Wallace was too ill at the time to participate in the memorable occasion.

In his fraternal life, Deacon Wallace was a member of the Masonic lodge in Waterbury. He was one of the first to espouse the cause of organization among retail clerks and his name is on the original roll of the Barre local to-day. His death will be mourned by people in many walks of life and those who feel in his departure the loss of a true friend are many.

The funeral will be held at the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. J. W. Bagnall, officiating. Prayers to the church service, prayers will be said at the house at 1:30 o'clock. The burial will take place in Hope cemetery.

Elderly Lady Honored.
Mrs. Merrill Jones Unexpectedly Entertained Friends on Her Eightieth Birthday.

A very pleasant surprise was tendered Mrs. Merrill Jones last Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Virgil Ayers, on Ayers street, the occasion being to celebrate her eightieth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Jones was not aware that so many of her friends remembered the date. As the postmen brought more cards of greeting with each mail, Mrs. Jones entered into the spirit of the occasion like a school girl. The birthday cards, beautiful and varied, numbered 65 in all.

The greatest surprise of all came when several ladies called to pay their respects in person. It soon dawned upon this octogenarian that she was the victim of a surprise party. A small number of her friends spent a very enjoyable afternoon with the dear old lady. In the latter part of the afternoon, a bountiful birthday lunch was served. Mrs. Jones was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Jones is surprisingly active for her age and enjoys excellent health. She is a little lame as the result of a fall and a broken hip, but otherwise is well and strong enough for a lady of half her age. The party broke up in due time, and the ladies departed wishing Mrs. Jones many more birthday anniversaries with equal good health and activity.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Elmer of Alva, Fla., who have been visiting at the home of Fred L. Page of Highland avenue, left this morning by automobile for the southern part of Vermont. They will return to their home early in September.

Everybody is talking about the Washington fair—a nice place to see your friends, for they will all be there. Don't forget the dates, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

PROBATION
WAS VIOLATEDSo Walter Emerson Will Spend
329 Days in Jail

ON A TWO YEAR OLD CASE

In June, 1910, He Was Sentenced to Pay a Fine For Killing a Deer Out of Season and Was Placed on Probation
Which He Didn't Respect.

Chelsea, Aug. 26.—Walter Emerson of Fairlee was sentenced at the June term of Orange county court in 1910, to pay a fine of $100 for killing a deer out of season, with the usual alternative sentence in county jail, and sentence was suspended and he was placed in the hands of the county probation officer and ordered to report monthly. This order of the court he failed to perform, and a warrant was placed in the officer's hands for his arrest, in the fall of 1910, but he was not apprehended until last Friday, when Sheriff Adams, while traveling through Fairlee, spied the man and in short order took him into custody and delivered him over to Deputy Sheriff A. P. Bancroft of Fairlee. The latter brought him before the county clerk and mittimus was issued committing him to the county jail for a term of 329 days.

Three Cases in Court.
Two for Subsequent Offenses and One For First Time.

For the third time since March 1 and the second since May 31, when sentence in his case was suspended and the respondent placed on probation, Lawrence R. Holmes came into city court this forenoon and entered a plea of guilty to a subsequent offense of intoxication. Judge H. W. Scott asked the man to disclose and he told of persuading two strangers to purchase whiskey for him. For this last offense, the court imposed a fine of $10 and costs of $4.94.

Before proceeding in the case, Judge Scott asked the respondent if he could offer any reason why suspension of the May 31 sentence shouldn't be revoked. Holmes declared that he was making plans to take a cure when the appetite seized him again. Judge Scott revoked the order of suspension and will issue a mittimus for Holmes to serve thirty days in the county jail, the original sentence was imposed May 31.

William Boyle, who says he lives in Berlin, faced the court on a subsequent offense of intoxication and paid a fine of $5 and costs of $6.04. He was arrested by Officer McLeod on South Main street yesterday afternoon and lodged at police headquarters over night.

Arthur York, charged with being an accomplice in the theft of a horse from the Arkley livery barn on Merchant street, was arraigned in city court before Judge Scott Saturday evening. The young man made a plea of guilty and technically waived examination. He was remanded to county jail until his case comes up in county court. York was arrested Friday night by Deputy Sheriff A. M. Morrison on the road between Newport Center and House's Hill. The warrant for his apprehension was issued by State's Attorney J. Ward Carter.

The case against Frank Martin, a former milk dealer, who was arrested on a warrant issued by State's Attorney J. Ward Carter, was continued from to-day until a later date to be agreed upon by the state's attorney and counsel for the defense.
